APPENDIX 1	i

Article 1—Name

Section 1. This Federation is called the Manitoba Federation of Labour. It is chartered by the Canadian Labour Congress. It is made up of organizations affiliated to, or chartered by, the Congress. These organizations will follow the Federation's Constitution, rules, and regulations. As long as there are twenty (20) affiliates of five (5) organizations, this Federation will continue to operate.

Article 2—Purpose

Section 1. The Federation is set up to:

- 1. Support the principles and policies of the Canadian Labour Congress.
- 2. Promote the interest of affiliates and to advance Manitoba workers' economic and social welfare.
- 3. Help affiliated organizations with their collective bargaining and union education for workers, help organize and promote unions, and recognize the need for both craft and industrial unions.
- 4. Encourage all workers to share in the full benefits of union membership, no matter what their perceived race, creed, colour, age, gender, sexual orientation, national origin, political beliefs, ancestry, pregnancy or childbirth status, marital status, family status, physical disability, and mental disability.
- 5. Work to have laws that will protect and promote union principles, such as free collective bargaining, workers' rights, people's welfare and security, and speak on the workers' behalf to elected representatives.
- 6. Protect and make strong our democratic institutions, to make sure people know and enjoy our rights and liberties, and to save and continue our democratic traditions.

7. Promote global peace and freedom, to work with free and democratic labour movements throughout the world.
8. Help and encourage the sale of use of union-made goods and union services by using the Union Label and other symbols.
9. Protect the labour movement against corruption, as well as defend the principles of democracy and free and democratic unions.
10. Protect the labour movement from political control, to encourage workers to vote, to be active and responsible citizens, and to participate in all levels of government.

Article 3—Membership

Section 1. Members of the Federation are:

- (1) Canadian Labour Congress affiliates, including local unions, branches and lodges of national and international unions, regional and provincial organizations of their units.
- (2) Canadian Labour Congress chartered local unions in Manitoba.
- (3) (a) Canadian Labour Congress chartered labour councils in Manitoba.

(b) Any organization listed in (1) and (2) above that pays per capita tax for all members in Manitoba through a provincial organization will be allowed representation at Convention. This does not mean any delegate is entitled to more than one (1) credential. The amount of per capita is covered in Article 10.

(c) A delegate to Convention must be a member of a local union, branch, lodge, or unit affiliated with the Manitoba Federation of Labour.
- (4) Canadian Labour Congress chartered Manitoba Federation of Union Retirees (affiliated to the Congress of Union Retirees of Canada).

Section 2. Any organization affiliated with this Federation can be expelled with a two-thirds (2/3) majority roll call vote at Convention. This decision may be appealed to the Canadian Council of the Canadian Labour Congress within two (2) months. This decision will be in force during the appeal.

Section 3. Each affiliated organization must give the Federation membership information.

Article 4—Conventions

Section 1. The Federation's main governing body is the Convention. Decisions will be made by majority vote, except for Constitutional amendments as outlined in Article 4, Section 12(4).

Section 2. The Federation's Convention will be held every three (3) years. Conferences or other meetings of affiliates will be held between conventions as required. The Executive Council will set the date of the Convention and give at least six (6) months' notice to all affiliates.

- Section 3.
- (1) Special conventions can be called by regular convention, the Executive Council, or affiliates who represent a majority of the Federation's total membership (according to the records of the last convention).
 - (2) If a majority of members requests a special convention, the Executive Council will call the special convention, give thirty (30) days' notice of its time and place, and outline the business being discussed.
 - (3) Representatives to a special convention will be chosen on the same basis as representatives to a regular convention.
 - (4) A special convention will consider matters outlined in the notice by the Executive Council and will have the same authority as a regular convention on these matters.

Section 4.

(a) The Canadian Council of the Canadian Labour Congress has approved the following number of representatives at conventions:

(1) Executive Council..... all members

(2) Local Unions 1 to 175 members
1 Delegate
176 to 325 members 2 Delegates
326 to 475 members 3 Delegates
476 to 625 members 4 Delegates
626 to 775 members 5 Delegates
776 to 925 members 6 Delegates
926 to 1,075 members 7 Delegates

Continue to follow the same pattern, one (1) delegate for every additional one hundred and fifty (150) members.

(3) Labour Councils 2 delegates

(4) Provincial Organizations or Joint Council..... 1 delegate

(b) In this Section only, “member(s)” means the average number that affiliate members have paid per capita tax on for twelve (12) months before the Convention Call. If a union has affiliated after that twelve (12) month period started, they can send delegates according to the average number of members that the affiliate has paid per capita tax on. If a union is excused from paying its per capita tax, it can send delegates according to the number of members it has, or would have paid for. Alternate delegates are allowed but will only vote or speak when substituting for a regular delegate.

(c) All labour council delegates and all provincial organization delegates must be members of unions affiliates with the Federation. You will be able to sit in Convention if your organization has paid your current per capita tax.

- Section 5. (a) The Federation will send duplicate credential blanks to each delegate at least one hundred and twenty (120) days before the opening of a regular convention, and thirty (30) days before a special convention.
- (b) The delegate will keep the original credential and send the duplicate to the Federation. To be an official Convention delegate, a person must be a member of the local union, branch, or lodge that they represent.
- (c) To be accepted, credentials must be received at least fifteen (15) days before the opening of a regular convention and at least ten (10) days before a special convention. However, the Credentials Committee may recommend approving the seating of delegates at Convention.
- Section 6. The Executive Council will set a registration fee. The fee must be sent to the Federation with the duplicate copy of the credential.
- Section 7. An organization expelled or suspended by the Canadian Labour Congress will not be allowed representation in the Federation. An organization behind in its per capita tax for three (3) months or more will not get recognition or representation in the Convention.
- Section 8. A member will not be a delegate at Convention if suspended or expelled from any Federation affiliate.
- Section 9. An organization must affiliate at least thirty (30) days before Convention starts.
- Section 10. (a) The Executive Council will appoint a Credentials Committee before Convention opens. This Committee will be approved by Convention, have at least three (3) members chosen from affiliates who have sent credentials, meet prior to the opening of Convention, examine the credentials they have received, determine which credentials will be approved, register the approved credentials, and report on the first (1st) day of Convention and as required.

- (b) The Convention can begin its business and the delegates can be seated after the Credentials Committee Report has been accepted. The Committee's decisions can be appealed to Convention.

Section 11. At Convention, Canadian Labour Congress Officers, and other invited delegates, will have all the rights of other delegates, except they cannot vote or stand for office.

Section 12. (1) The Federation must receive all resolutions, petitions, and appeals at least sixty (60) days before Convention. (See also Article 4, Section 12[4]).

- (2) The Executive Council, or an affiliate, can submit a resolution. This resolution must be supported by the Council or affiliate and must be signed by an Officer. This Officer will include their contact information so they can be reached if there are any questions about the content of the resolution. The resolution will deal with only one (1) subject and outline a proposed action. It will not be more than one hundred and fifty (150) words.

(3) Resolutions will be sorted and sent to the appropriate Convention Committee thirty (30) days before Convention. This Committee will report on the resolution before the Convention considers it.

(4) (a) The Executive Council will receive late resolutions, resolutions not filed correctly, petitions, and appeals.

(b) The Council can bring these matters to Convention. Two-thirds (2/3) of the delegates must agree before these matters can be considered.

Section 13. The Executive Council will appoint committees to deal with Convention business thirty (30) days prior to the opening of the Convention. The Executive can ask these committees to meet before the Convention to work on Convention business. The Federation will pay for wages and expenses for these extra work days with the Executive's approval.

Section 14. A quorum is one-third (1/3) of the registered Convention delegates.

- Section 15.
- (1) The President will Chair both regular and special conventions. The Executive Council will decide who else will Chair Convention.
 - (2) Delegates must act respectfully toward each other. Refer to Manitoba Federation of Labour “Policy on Code of Conduct” at Manitoba Federation of Labour events.
 - (3) To speak at Convention, delegates will use a speaker’s microphone, wait until they are recognized by the Chairperson, give their name and the organization they represent, and talk only about the issue being discussed.
 - (4) Speeches cannot be longer than three (3) minutes. Speeches to move a resolution can be as long as ten (10) minutes.
 - (5) Delegates can speak only once on a subject. However, if everyone who wants to speak has spoken, delegates may have another turn.
 - (6) Delegates will let others speak without interruption. Interruptions are only allowed when you want to ask about, or object to, what’s going on (or calling a “Point of Order”).
 - (7) If the Chairperson calls a delegate to order, the delegate steps down until the Convention decides on the point raised.
 - (8) If a delegate continues to act inappropriately, the Chairperson may silence the delegate. The delegate may then explain his or her actions to the Convention and then step down. The Convention then decides what to do.
 - (9) When the Convention is to vote, the Chairperson describes what is to be voted on and asks: “Are you ready to end the debate and vote on the question?” If no delegate wants to speak, the delegates can vote (or “put the question”).
 - (10) Votes are usually cast by raising an arm or by standing. Each delegate is allowed one (1) vote. One-third (1/3) of the delegates can demand a roll call vote (when a delegate goes to the microphone to vote as his or her name is called).

- (11) Two (2) delegates can appeal the decision of the Chairperson. The Chairperson can explain the decision but the appeal is not debatable. The Chairperson will then ask: “Do the delegates agree with the Chairperson’s decision?”
- (12) The Chairperson has the same rights as other delegates to vote on any question. If a vote is tied, the Chairperson will cast the deciding vote.
- (13) When a delegate moves to end debate (or “put the previous question”), there can be no discussion or amendments made. If a majority votes that, “the question be now put,” the delegates vote on the original Motion with no more debate. If the Motion to end debate is defeated, the discussion can keep going.
- (14) Convention committees can combine resolutions or prepare a composite resolution to cover the intent of more than one (1) resolution. The Committee Reports cannot be changed unless the Committee agrees. A delegate can move to refer (send back) a matter to the Committee so the Committee can reconsider their decision.
- (15) A delegate cannot make a motion to refer (send back to Committee) after speaking on the Motion.
- (16) A Motion to refer cannot be debated and is immediately voted on.
- (17) Convention decides whether to adopt Committee Reports. If a report is defeated, it may be sent back to the Committee to be reconsidered.
- (18) (a) When the Convention is discussing a Motion, the only other Motions that are allowed are (in order):
- (1) to end debate (“put the previous question”);
 - (2) to send the Motion to a Committee (to refer the Motion); and
 - (3) to postpone for a set amount of time (table the Motion).

(b) If delegates defeat any of these Motions, the Motions cannot be reconsidered again until the next sitting of Convention.

(19) After delegates have voted on a Motion, they may reconsider it under these conditions:

(a) if the delegate who wants the matter to be reconsidered voted with the majority;

(b) if Notice of Motion to reconsider is given at the next sitting of Convention; and

(c) two-thirds (2/3) of the delegates support the Notice of Motion.

(20) The Executive Council will set the Convention hours.

(21) Unless otherwise stated, Bourinot's Rules of Order covers anything not outlined here in this Constitution.

Section 16. Decisions made at Convention will take effect as soon as Convention is over, unless Convention decides on another time.
