Preamble

The strength of the labour movement is built on solidarity and respect among workers. We are committed to the goals of worker democracy, social justice, equality, and peace. We are dedicated to making the lives of workers and their families safe, secure, and healthy.

Every worker is entitled, without discrimination, to a job with decent wages and working conditions, union representation, free collective bargaining, a safe and healthy workplace, and the right to strike.

All human beings are entitled to basic human rights, political freedom, strong public services, good democratic government, a safe and sustainable environment, a just and equitable society, and a peaceful world.

Diversity in our society must be protected, promoted, and celebrated. We believe that every worker is an equal member of the human family and has the right to share in the benefits of union membership, regardless of gender, gender identity, colour, creed, ethnic origin, disability, sexual orientation or age. We stand for an inclusive society and stand against abuses of human rights in our workplaces, our communities, our country, and around the world.

The MFL speaks out forcefully for our affiliates and their members to employers, government and the public to ensure the rights of workers are protected and expanded.

We defend and promote the principles of democracy and equality and hold true the ideal of human rights for all. In solidarity, we pursue social, economic and political justice – the goals on which the labour movement was founded.

Article 1—Name

Section 1. This Federation is called the Manitoba Federation of Labour. It is chartered by the Canadian Labour Congress. It is made up of organizations affiliated to, or chartered by, the Congress. These organizations will follow the Federation's Constitution, rules, and regulations. As long as there are twenty (20) affiliates of five (5) organizations, this Federation will continue to operate.

Article 2—Purpose

Section 1.

The Federation exists to:

1. Support the principles, policies, and activities of the Canadian Labour Congress, including working across borders in solidarity.
2. Promote the interests of affiliates, and respond to requests from affiliates for help with activities such as union education, organizing and collective bargaining.
3. Work to advance the economic and social welfare of all Manitoba workers, including those who are unemployed or retired.
4. Speak for labour on provincial issues and work for laws that protect and promote union principles, such as free collective bargaining, worker's rights, the right to strike, and the security and well-being of all workers.
5. Promote union principles and the benefits of unionization through media, other communication and education, building greater understanding of the labour movement and the importance of extending union representation to workers not yet in a union.
6. Encourage the sale and use of union-made goods and services through the use of the Union label and other symbols.
7. Provide leadership in political action and encourage greater worker participation in the political process.

Article 3—Membership

Section 1.

Members of the Federation are:

1. Canadian Labour Congress affiliates, including local unions, branches and lodges of national and international unions, regional and provincial organizations of their units.
2. Canadian Labour Congress chartered local unions in Manitoba.
3. (a) Canadian Labour Congress chartered labour councils in Manitoba.

- (b) Any organization listed in (1) and (2) above that pays per capita tax for all members in Manitoba through a provincial organization will be allowed representation at Convention. This does not mean any delegate is entitled to more than one (1) credential. The amount of per capita is covered in Article 10.
  - (c) A delegate to Convention must be a member of a local union, branch, lodge, or unit affiliated with the Manitoba Federation of Labour.
4. Canadian Labour Congress chartered Manitoba Federation of Union Retirees (affiliated to the Congress of Union Retirees of Canada).

Section 2. Any organization affiliated with this Federation can be expelled with a two-thirds (2/3) majority roll call vote at Convention. This decision may be appealed to the Canadian Council of the Canadian Labour Congress within two (2) months. This decision will be in force during the appeal.

Section 3. Each affiliated organization must give the Federation membership information.

Article 4—Conventions

Section 1. The Federation's main governing body is the Convention. Decisions will be made by majority vote, except for Constitutional amendments as outlined in Article 11, Section 1.

Section 2. The Federation's Convention will be held every three (3) years. Conferences or other meetings of affiliates will be held between conventions as required. The Executive Council will set the date of the Convention and give at least six (6) months' notice to all affiliates.

- Section 3.
- (1) Special conventions can be called by regular convention, the Executive Council, or affiliates who represent a majority of the Federation's total membership (according to the records of the last convention).
  - (2) If a majority of members requests a special convention, the Executive Council will call the special convention, give thirty

(30) days' notice of its time and place, and outline the business being discussed.

- (3) Representatives to a special convention will be chosen on the same basis as representatives to a regular convention.
- (4) A special convention will consider matters outlined in the notice by the Executive Council and will have the same authority as a regular convention on these matters.

Section 4.

- (a) The Canadian Council of the Canadian Labour Congress has approved the following number of representatives at conventions:

(1) Executive Council ..... all members

(2) Local Unions

1 to 175 members 1 Delegate
176-325 members 2 Delegates
326-475 members 3 Delegates
476-625 members 4 delegates

Continue to follow the same pattern, one (1) delegate for every additional one hundred and fifty (150) members

(3) Labour Councils ..... 2 delegates

(4) Provincial Organizations or Joint Council ..... 1 delegate

- (b) In this Section only, "member(s)" means the average number that affiliate members have paid per capita tax on for twelve (12) months before the Convention Call. If a union has affiliated after that twelve (12) month period started, they can send delegates according to the average number of members that the affiliate has paid per capita tax on. If a union is excused from paying its per capita tax, it can send delegates according to the number of members it has, or would have paid for. Alternate delegates are allowed but will only vote or speak when substituting for a regular delegate.
- (c) All labour council delegates and all provincial organization delegates must be members of unions affiliates with the Federation. You will be able to sit in Convention if your organization has paid your current per capita tax.

- Section 5. (a) The Federation will send credentials to each affiliate at least one hundred and twenty (120) days before the opening of a regular convention, and thirty (30) days before a special convention.
- (b) To be an official Convention delegate, a person must be a member of the local union, branch or lodge that they represent.
- (c) To be accepted, credentials must be received at least fifteen (15) days before the opening of a regular convention and at least ten (10) days before a special convention. However, the Credentials Committee may recommend approving the seating of delegates at Convention.
- Section 6. The Executive Council will set a registration fee. The fee must be sent to the Federation with the duplicate copy of the credential.
- Section 7. An organization expelled or suspended by the Canadian Labour Congress will not be allowed representation in the Federation. An organization behind in its per capita tax for three (3) months or more will not get recognition or representation in the Convention.
- Section 8. A member will not be a delegate at Convention if suspended or expelled from any Federation affiliate.
- Section 9. An organization must affiliate at least thirty (30) days before Convention starts.
- Section 10. (a) The Executive Council will appoint a Credentials Committee before Convention opens. This Committee will be approved by Convention, have at least three (3) members chosen from affiliates who have sent credentials, meet prior to the opening of Convention, examine the credentials they have received, determine which credentials will be approved, register the approved credentials, and report on the first (1st) day of Convention and as required.
- (b) The Convention can begin its business and the delegates can be seated after the Credentials Committee Report has been accepted. The Committee's decisions can be appealed to Convention.
- Section 11. At Convention, Canadian Labour Congress Officers, and other invited delegates, will have all the rights of other delegates, except they cannot vote or stand for office.

Section 12.

- (1) The Federation must receive all resolutions, petitions, and appeals at least sixty (60) days before Convention. (See also Article 4, Section 12[4]).
- (2) The Executive Council, or an affiliate, can submit a resolution. This resolution must be supported by the Council or affiliate and must be approved by an Officer. This Officer will include their contact information so they can be reached if there are any questions about the content of the resolution. The resolution will deal with only one (1) subject and outline a proposed action. It will not be more than one hundred and fifty (150) words.
- (3) Resolutions will be sorted and sent to the appropriate Convention Committee thirty (30) days before Convention. This Committee will report on the resolution before the Convention considers it.
- (4)
  - (a) The Executive Council will receive late resolutions, resolutions not filed correctly, petitions, and appeals.
  - (b) The Council can bring these matters to Convention. Two-thirds (2/3) of the delegates must agree before these matters can be considered.
- (5) Convention committees can combine resolutions or prepare a composite resolution to cover the intent of more than one (1) resolution. The Committee Reports cannot be changed unless the Committee agrees. A delegate can move to refer (send back) a matter to the Committee so the Committee can reconsider their decision.

Section 13.

The Executive Council will appoint committees to deal with Convention business thirty (30) days prior to the opening of the Convention. The Executive can ask these committees to meet before the Convention to work on Convention business. The Federation will pay for wages and expenses for these extra work days with the Executive's approval.

Section 14.

A quorum is one-third (1/3) of the registered Convention delegates.

Section 15.

- (1) The President will Chair both regular and special conventions. The Executive Council will decide who else will Chair Convention.
- (2) Delegates must act respectfully toward each other. Refer to

Manitoba Federation of Labour “Policy on Code of Conduct” at Manitoba Federation of Labour events.

- (3) To speak at Convention, delegates will use a speaker’s microphone, wait until they are recognized by the Chairperson, give their name and the organization they represent, and talk only about the issue being discussed.
- (4) Speeches cannot be longer than three (3) minutes.
- (5) Delegates can speak only once on a subject. However, if everyone who wants to speak has spoken, delegates may have another turn.
- (6) Delegates will let others speak without interruption. Interruptions are only allowed when you want to ask about, or object to, what’s going on (or calling a “Point of Order”).
- (7) If the Chairperson calls a delegate to order, the delegate steps down until the Convention decides on the point raised.
- (8) If a delegate continues to act inappropriately, the Chairperson may silence the delegate. The delegate may then explain his or her actions to the Convention and then step down. The Convention then decides what to do.
- (9) When the Convention is to vote, the Chairperson describes what is to be voted on and asks: “Are you ready to end the debate and vote on the question?” If no delegate wants to speak, the delegates can vote (or “put the question”).
- (10) Votes are usually cast by raising an arm or by standing. Each delegate is allowed one (1) vote. One-third (1/3) of the delegates can demand a standing vote (where delegates stand and are counted by the balloting committee and the results are handed to the chairperson to share with the convention). A majority (50%+1) of the delegates can demand a roll call vote (when delegates are called to the microphone one by one to record each vote).
- (11) Two (2) delegates can appeal a decision of the Chairperson by raising a point of order. A point of order challenging the Chairperson may interrupt proceedings and must be made immediately (before the next order of business), or it is out of order. Upon being challenged, the Chairperson will temporarily vacate the Chair and a Vice-Chair will take over and explain the process to delegates. The Vice-Chair will have the mover of the challenge explain which decision of the Chair is being challenged and why. The Vice-Chair will then ask the Chairperson to explain their decision. No further debate is allowed. The Vice-Chair will then ask: "Do the delegates agree with the Chairperson's decision?"

- (12) The Chairperson has the same rights as other delegates to vote on any question. If a vote is tied, the Chairperson will cast the deciding vote.
- (13) A delegate can move to end debate on a resolution (or "call the question") at any time, after which there can be no further discussion or amendments made, and the Chairperson will "test the floor" to determine if delegates are ready to end debate. The Chairperson can also elect to "test the floor" at any time in order to facilitate debate on more resolutions.
- (14) A delegate cannot make a motion to refer (send back to Committee) after speaking on the Motion.
- (15) A Motion to refer cannot be debated and is immediately voted on.
- (16) Convention decides whether to adopt Committee Reports. If a report is defeated, it may be sent back to the Committee to be reconsidered.
- (17) (a) When the Convention is discussing a Motion, the only other Motions that are allowed are (in order):
  - (1) to end debate ("put the previous question");
  - (2) to send the Motion to a Committee (to refer the Motion); and
  - (3) to postpone for a set amount of time (table the Motion).
- (b) If delegates defeat any of these Motions, the Motions cannot be reconsidered again until the next sitting of Convention.
- (18) After delegates have voted on a Motion, they may reconsider it under these conditions:

- (a) if the delegate who wants the matter to be reconsidered voted with the majority;
  - (b) if Notice of Motion to reconsider is given at the next sitting of Convention; and
  - (c) two-thirds (2/3) of the delegates support the Notice of Motion.
- (19) The Executive Council will set the Convention hours.
- (20) Unless otherwise stated, Bourinot's Rules of Order covers anything not outlined here in this Constitution.

Section 16. Decisions made at Convention will take effect as soon as Convention is over, unless Convention decides on another time.

Article 5—Officers

Section 1. A full listing of the Manitoba Federation of Labour (MFL) Executive Council is included at the end of the constitution as Appendix 1: Executive Council Chart.

Section 2. All Officers will be elected by secret ballot. Extra ballots will be taken until a majority vote is reached. The candidate with the lowest votes will be removed from the ballot before the next vote. If there is a final tie vote, the presiding Officer can cast the deciding vote.

Section 3. Nominations for the four (4) table officers received 60 days prior to the convention shall be entitled to have their biography and photo included in convention kits. All nominations for Table Officers must be received 30 days prior to the convention call to order. A delegate may only let their name stand for one Table Officer position.

Section 4. The Candidates nominated for the four (4) Table Officer positions [President, Treasurer and two (2) Executive Vice Presidents] will be allowed to address the delegates for five (5) minutes at a scheduled election forum for candidates.

Section 5. All Executive Council members shall take the following oath at convention or their first (1st) Executive Council meeting:

Section 6. The term of President and Treasurer (including all official duties and authorities) will begin immediately after election.

A newly elected President will make arrangements to begin full time work with the Federation as soon as possible, and no later than within thirty (30) days of the close of Convention. To assist with transition, an outgoing President will remain available for consultative support to the Federation for a period of thirty (30) days after the close of Convention, but retain no official duties or authorities on behalf of the Federation.

The term of other Table Officers will begin immediately after their election and continue through to the next Convention.

Section 7. Officers, Young Member Vice-President and Equality Vice-Presidents may be filled by the Executive Council. These newly-appointed people will serve until the next convention. The exception is the office of President, which is covered in Article 6, Section 6.

Section 8. The Executive Officers will be Trustees for the Federation and hold title to any of the Federation's real estate. However, they have no right to sell, transfer the property title, or mortgage any real estate without first (1st) submitting and getting approval of the plan at Convention.

Section 9. The President will cast the deciding vote if there is a tie vote on the Executive Council.

alternate.

- Section 2. (a) The President will:

- Section 3. The President will be an ex officio member of all committees and can speak but cannot vote.
- Section 4. The President has the authority to interpret the Constitution. That interpretation will be valid unless appealed to the Canadian Labour Congress. The interpretation can also be reversed or changed by the Executive Council or Convention.
- Section 5. The President will receive remuneration, benefits, expenses and working conditions based on the “Conditions of Employment Agreement” established by the Table Officers of the Federation and ratified by Executive Council.
- Section 6. If the President’s position becomes vacant, the Treasurer will take over the President’s duties until the Executive Council gathers at a special meeting to appoint one (1) of its own members to take over the presidency within thirty (30) days of the position becoming vacant.

They will have the authority to deal with matters sent to them by the Executive Council. These Officers will also report to, and be responsible to, the Executive Council. The Table Officers are authorized to act in ways consistent with this Constitution and the Federation's policies between Executive Council meetings. A quorum is three (3) Table Officers.

Section 4. The Executive Council meets at least four (4) times a year.

Section 5. The Executive Council will initiate provincial legislative action to support the interests of working people.

Section 6. The Executive Council has the power to investigate where:

- (a) There is reason to believe an affiliate is under corrupt influence.
- (b) There is reason to believe an affiliate's policies or activities are contrary to the Federation's policies or principles.
- (c) Hearings can be requested as part of the investigation. After the investigation, the Executive Council can make recommendations to the organization and the Canadian Labour Congress. An organization can be suspended with a two-thirds (2/3) majority vote of the Executive Council. Any action taken by the Executive Council following an investigation can be appealed at Convention.

Section 7. A quorum is the majority of the Executive Council members.

Section 8. Except for the Area Vice-Presidents, Executive Council members are responsible to cover their own expenses and lost wages while performing their Federation duties. After receiving expense receipts, the Executive Council can reimburse Area Vice-Presidents' expenses for performing the Federation's duties. Expenses will be paid to cover attending Executive Council meetings and Convention. The Executive Council can reimburse Area Vice-Presidents for any lost wages unless that Area Vice-President is paid full-time wages by a labour organization. The Manitoba Federation of Labour will cover costs of the Vice-Presidents elected by the Manitoba Federation of Union Retirees (affiliated to the Congress of Union Retirees of Canada).
